Key Attributes

- In my role as founder of Naomi Israel Consulting Ltd., I serve my clients as organisational change consultant and executive coach in context to key topics such as navigating complex transformations successfully and improving cultural diversity sustainably.
- In my working with clients, I leverage over 20 years of professional experience in complex, global organizations, primarily but not only Financial Services. I also draw on my culture heritage (half-Japanese) and on my academic credentials.
- As INSEAD Executive Master in Change, I apply a systemic lens on how to better integrate human and system complexity in behavioural and organizational change.
