- As founder of Naomi Israel Consulting Ltd., I support my clients with organisational development and as executive coach. My approach integrates executive and group coaching, organisational development, and systems-psychodynamic perspectives; complemented by creativity-based methods. My work is informed by Sōzō-sei no Tenkai®, a research-based, creativity-centred developmental intervention.
- In my working with clients, I leverage over 20 years of professional experience in complex, global organizations, primarily but not only Financial Services. I also draw on my culture heritage (half-Japanese) and on my cross-functional academic credentials.
